As a video game designer, I work hard to make games that are both entertaining and educational.	Playing video games is important because it is lots of fun.	Playing video games improves thinking skills, reaction time, and hand-eye coordination.
As a videogame player, I've never let my gaming cause my grades to lower.	Why would people want to take away videogames and make children so sad?	Research shows that videogames are good for players' minds.
As a parent, I've often used video games as a reward for making good grades.	The misery caused by denying children videogames is a very real pain that cannot be discounted.	Video games help improve players' reaction times.
As an informed consumer, I like to choose products that are not detrimental to my children's ability to think--like videogames.
