

Elements of Discourse - Key

Name:

Class:

Teacher:

Date:

Directions: Match each item to its corresponding column.

Audience

Form

Purpose

Speaker

This determines the word choice; perhaps formal or very casual.

This is how content is organized.

This is the reason for a discourse.

One who delivers discourse.

This denotes the receiver(s) of discourse.

Examples include step by step instructions; sequential; or logic, ethics, and emotional appeals.

Examples include to explain, to persuade, and to describe.

This could be the narrator; maybe even a character in a narrative.

--	--	--	--

